The 2014-15 Federal Budget focuses on the long-term prosperity of our nation. While the government has made it clear that the current levels of debt and deficit are unsustainable, climbing back into the black must not come at the cost of essential investments in our future. The government has committed significant investment in infrastructure which will pay dividends now and into the future. The wise investment in medical research is a welcome surprise that plays on Australia’s competitive advantage.